PARTING WORDS.

The Close of the Great Mission Meeting—A Few Missing Links Supplied.

The eighteenth annual meeting of the Woman's Presbyterian Board of Missions, which came to a close yesterday afternoon, as we were going to press, finished its labors shortly before 5 o'clock, and the delegates have gone to their homes with many pleasant recollections of the profitable session and the hospitable manner in which they were entertained by our citizens.

The closing exercises, which were briefly alluded to in THE SENTINEL last evening, were full of interest and to our account already given we can only add the remarks of Mrs. S. J. Rhea on the topic "A Group of Missionaries," and the closing remarks of the president. Mrs. Rhea's speech was full of interest and was listened to attentively by the vast audience. She spoke as follows:

"I wish I could speak of the costly gems placed in the Redeemer's crown. In the principles of this meeting, in the work of our board, in our president's labors, in the work of our executive committee, in the precious work of our auxilliary societies, in the systematic and careful, loving work that is done all over the world—and there are such grand, rich jewels in the crown. And they are so dear, so precious, these loving sons and daughters, these precious children of our hearts; these who offer their young, ardent minds to carry the gospel to the heathen.

"Yes, they are ours to love and to help, their faults, their weaknesses, their failures and their trials we are responsible for, for we have sent them out. That is what our board exists for, to send them; they are our missionaries.

"We feel as if we were almost in the presence of the heathen, these faces have looked into their eyes, these hands have touched theirs, these ears that are so glad to hear our voices and hear the gospel have also heard the heathen speak in their strange tongues of the wonderful work of God.

"These ears, oh, blessed ears, that have heard the joyful sound, have heard the heathen woman asking, "What can I do to be saved?"

"They have heard them ask for Christ, they have heard them praise his name, they have witnessed that wonderful transformation of heathen women being converted to Christ.

"These missionaries have looked into the eyes of the heathen women and from their eyes down into their souls, for women see into women's souls.

"These eyes have shed tears for heathen women; that is one of the things that missionaries have eyes for, that they may shed tears.

"I would that every heart here may be prepared like a camera and take a photograph to carry home this pictnre that is before us to-day."

The speaker then introduced the following missionaries: Miss Smith, who goes to Teheran, Persia; Miss Pendleton, whose mission is at India; Miss McIntosh, who goes to South America; Misses Davis and Gibbons to India; Miss Holliday, whom the speaker said went to Persia from Indianapolis; Miss Ward, "who has the word China written on her heart; Mrs. Johnson, who also goes to China.

"We have had," Mrs. Rhea continued, "the blessing which we asked, we have had the best meeting that we have ever enjoyed, and we can go to carry out the plans revealed to us.

"I am sure that we can all go home, and when we report to our societies there about this meeting I hope the first words that will come to our lips will be, 'We had a good time, the Lord was there, I never loved him so much.' I was never more resolved to put forth every effort I have for the Lord."

RESOLUTIONS.

Resolved, That we hereby express our thanks to Christian friends in Fort Wayne for their gracious hospitality; to the First church, its pastor and choir, for a delightful place of meeting and an inspiring service of song; to the kind friend who set beauty and fragrance as a continual refreshment before us; to the young friends who have so untiringly and acceptably served the bountiful lunch; to the local committee of arrangements, and every one of their faithful helpers, for such perfection of detail in both plan and execution, as it proves that love has ministered unto us for Christ's sake.

Resolved, That we recognize with reverent gratitude the good hand of our God upon us, in the personal privilege of attending this meeting, in the unbroken official membership of our board and in the seal of divine approval upon our work shown by the report of our secretaries, and by touching incidents and loving messages given by workers from various fields.

Resolved, That we acknowledge more profoundly than ever before the indi[illegible]

before the closing hymn, made the following farewell remarks:

"As our treasurer spoke of our wonderful land I was greatly impressed with her words. A land broad and fair, prepared for just such a people as this, and a people that would give up home and friends and country for the freedom to worship God.

"Our forefathers found good pasturage and the land was wide, quiet and comfortable. They developed its resources and rapidly increased in wealth.

"In this country, according to the statistics of Gladstone, the wealth seems fabulous, it was not given us that we should appropriate it to ourselves, but we should scatter broadcast these blessings that are given us.

"I believe that with this great American church, God, in His Providence, has given this great work for you, American women, to do.

"Here, met as a representative body of Christian women of the northwest, with God's Providence, we may togethmove the world.

"Woman in this country can be an educator. She can teach the young to love God. She goes to the heathen in his own land. I do not want to exalt woman. I do not want to set her up on a pedestal for mere admiration, but I would like to stimulate her to carry on this good work until the kingdoms of the earth have become the kingdoms of our Lord who is Christ, and He shall reign forever and forever. God be with us until we meet again."

PARTING WORDS.

Thus has closed one of the most distinguished gatherings of Christian ladies that has ever assembled in Fort Wayne. They came from their homes in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Dakota, Minnesota and several of the other states and territories of the great northwest, and it would be hard to find a superior body of representative American women, for they were splendid types of intellectual womanhood, and earnestly devoted to the cause in whose behalf they had assembled. Their work has been a grand one. It will be of incalculable benefit to the cause of missions abroad, and will tell through the centuries to come, and in closing this imperfect record of the proceedings of this great body, we can not more appropriately and briefly do so than to say: "God speed you Christian women in your noble work of sending the gospel to the benighted portions of the earth."

SICK OF THEIR BARGAINS.

The Comical Side of the Oklahoma Boom Will Now Be Succeeded By the Tragic.

OKLAHOMA CITY, I. T., April 26.—Sixty men employed as section hands on the Santa Fe deserted their posts Monday and took up claims just outside Guthrie. They made no provisions for the future and are now sick of their bargain. These men will either desert their holdings or sell out for a song within a week. The condition of many who settled outside of the town shows plainly that the comical side of the movement is about to be succeeded by the tragic.

PURCELL, I. T., April 26.—Thousands of disappointed home seekers, returning from Oklahoma, are obtaining land from the Indians in the Chickasaw, Choctaw and Creek nations. Many of the Indians welcome the white settlers and some are said to favor an allotment in severalty of their entire reservation.

Vice-President Morton in a Railroad Collision.

BALTIMORE, April 26.—A collision occurred this morning, between passenger trains on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, caused the injury of four men and endangered the life of Levi P. Morton, vice-president of the United States, and a large number of passengers.

Among other prominent men aboard were General Schofield and staff and Governor Foraker, of Ohio, and staff. All were going to New York.

In noting the candidacy of Mr. Herman Michael for councilman from the Second ward, THE SENTINEL reporter yesterday said he would stand as a republican. This is a mistake and entirely unintentional with us. Mr. Michael came over to the democracy under the reign of Mr. Cleveland, and did yoeman service for the party. He will be a democratic candidate for councilman.

Several other buildings in the vicinity were also badly damaged by the flames.

THE LUTHERAN SYNOD.

The Semi-Centennial of Concordia College to be Celebrated in June.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 26.—The Rev. J. H. Niemann, of Cleveland, Ohio, president of the middle district of the Lutheran synod, now in session at this city, in his opening remarks yesterday, took occasion to refer to the approaching celebration of the Washington centennial and to the religious liberty that is to-day enjoyed in this country as one of the results of national freedom. Not only is the effect of this liberty, he said, felt in political and state circles, but also in the sphere of the church, and as such it is largely accountable for the rapid and promising growth of the German Evangelical Lutheran church.

In June a semi-centennial celebration will be held in Fort Wayne to commemorate the organization of Concordia college. Its growth has been remarkable in the last fifty years. It was first instituted in a log cabin, in Perry county, Missouri.

The annual report of the district president was then presented, showing that during the past three-quarters of a year three ministers have been ordained and five installed. One parochial school teacher has been installed, three members removed from the district, and three ministers and one teacher received. Following this report was that of the board of relief, organized for the benefit of the widows and orphans of the teachers and ministers. D. W. Roscher, of Fort Wayne, treasurer, made a very favorable report upon the year, showing total receipts aggregating something over $15,000. A vote of thanks was extended to the Fort Wayne National bank, which has kindly furnished the checks to the treasurer free of charge.

Scene—Court house square. A [illegible] stranger passes along scrutinizing the [illegible] stores and sign boards. In his eagerness he stumbles over a glass show case [illegible] standing on the sidewalk. Regaining his feet the unfortunate stranger backs into a baby carriage, upsetting the vehicle and shocking the mother. With great composure the stranger adjusts his eye glasses and says coolly: "I beg your pardon, lady," and, as he lifts the child into the carriage, he drops a shining trinket in its hands. Turning to the man who ventured an unkind remark, he said: "I do not beg your pardon, sir; I am not a chump. I was looking for the store of the 'Original Pete,' hence all this catastrophe. A friend of mine has a suit of clothes from this house and I would go through fire, smoke and water to get one like it. Fort Wayne Sentinel.

E. A. K. HACKETT, Editor and Proprietor.

FRIDAY, APRIL 26, 1889.

THE republicans of Bluffton nominated L. C. Davenport for mayor, but he declines to be a candidate.

THE ancient City of Mexico is ordering electric light wires and their unsightly poles from the streets. There is some hope that Fort Wayne will get there in a century or two.

SIR JULIAN PAUNCEFOTE, the new British minister, refuses to talk to reporters and never writes a letter when he can walk. He interviewed Lord Sackville before coming over.

WM. S. KISER, of Noble county, who held a chief clerkship at Washington, sent in his resignation the other day to make room for a republican. Mr. Kiser is prominent in Twelfth district politics.

THE officers of the judicial circuit composed of DeKalb and Steuben counties have announced that they will leave no stone unturned to suppress gambling in that circuit, and that in case of conviction, the highest fine, $500, will be assessed.

THE recent decision of the supreme court annulling the election of the commissioners, has led Judge Niblack, according to the Vincennes Sun, to a determination to remove to Indian apolis, where he will resume the practice of law.

CAPTAIN J. E. BRADEN, of Ligonier, a hero of two wars, declined to be a candidate for postmaster at a primary election to select a candidate up there the other day. He recognized that a soldier, and a good one at that, stood no show in a race with the greedy republican office hunters.

THE Democratic Union Soldiers' and Sailors' Veteran association will meet in Indianapolis at the Hendricks club rooms, Tuesday, May 7. The object of the meeting is for the election of officers for the ensuing year, for an interchange of ideas concerning future plans and purposes of this organization, and to promote a general feeling of fraternal interest between the democratic union soldiers and sailors in all parts of the United States.

THE republicans of Lafayette have nominated for mayor, William S. Haggard, for clerk, David H. Flynn, for treasurer, Nicholas Gribling, for marshal, Edward Cunningham, for water works trustee, George S. Brown. The councilman are John H. McGrath, Patrick Feeley, Leo Pottlitzer, Dwight B. Woodcock, John Kimmel, Charles A. Davis, and Warren W. Lane. Mr. Brown, is the father of Mrs. W. P. Cooper, of this city, while Mr. Pottlitzer is a brother of Mr. Julius Pottlitzer, the commission merchant.

SUPERINTENDENT T. J. CHARLTON, of the reform school for boys, has made a semi-annual statement to the treasurer of the state of the number of boys in the school from the various counties of the state during the past six months. The report shows that 583 boys were under the care of the school, coming from eighty-two counties. The largest delegation came from Marion county, with 110 boys. Vigo came second with forty-four and Allen third with twenty-six. One-half of the expenses of the reform school is borne by the counties sending boys there.

IT is charged by the correspondent of the Indianapolis Journal, who is on the spot, that Mr. John I. Dille, of Huntington, and other Oklahoma officers, employing the advantages acquired on account of their official positions, have gobbled up the best portion of Guthrie by an unauthorized and unwarranted settlement—the lots having been staked off on Sunday night and taken possession of before 10 o'clock Monday morning, before the opening of the territory. The Muncie Times, another republican newspaper, insists that if the facts are as detailed by the correspondent the officials should not only be ousted from possession of the land, but from their official relations to the government. Such a scandal deserves a prompt rebuke from the administration and it will doubtless be forthcoming. Democratic comment is unnecessary.

THE COMMON COUNCIL.

pepsia, Indigestion, Nursing Mothers, the Weak and Debilitated.

...in this style I have used Johann Hoff's ...ottles only Malt Extract for the past five years in my private practice and have found it to be the best health restoring beverage and tonic nutritive known. I have found it especially good for persons convalescing from fever, in cases of dyspepsia, for mothers nursing, and in cases of weakly children, and also in lung troubles. My attention was drawn by the immense importation semi-monthly, and about a million of bottles imported by you have passed my inspection in the Custom House satisfactorily for the past five years.

LONG LIFE.

There is nothing in the world more generally desired than long life, yet the majority of people put off caring for their health—not because they are really careless, but because we live our lives at such a pace we have not time to give the subject sufficient thought until we receive a reminder in the shape of a severe illness.

Then, too, we are constantly bewildered by the various schools of medicine, and the physicians who represent them, and often blunder in our choice of a doctor.

If people only knew that the very best health-keeper, life-preserver and disease preventer that has yet been discovered, is simmered down into a concentrated and very palatable form in the shape of New Style Pleasant Taste Vinegar Bitters, they would not hesitate a moment to try it.

But they do not know. How can they know, when so many not only worthless, but positively injurious drugs are constantly flooding the market under various names and guises, that the New Style Vinegar Bitters is as bad as any of them?

They do not know, of course, unless they have the courage to try the New Style. It straightens out a tangled-up system in a very short while, and those who buy it once buy it always.

Why don't you try it, reader? It is sent out by a responsible house, and is exactly as represented. It costs but a dollar for a very large bottle. Try it once and you will never be so glad of anything in your life. Your druggist may not have it, but he will order it for you. Be sure it says New Style Pleasant Taste on carton and bottle before you take it. Try it, and you will feel happier than if you had found a gold mine, for it really is a mine—of health.

Free from alcohol and opium; composed of expensive herbs and roots, with fine, delicate flavoring.

HE TUMBLED.

How a Sixth Ward Lad Sought to Imbibe Love Tales.

By the East Yard Correspondent.

It was on a calm and tranquil Sunday night and everything on B——— street, in the Sixth ward, was as quiet as the grave, when the domestic of one of the habitations was being courted by a gallant swain.

But it seemed that this happy pair was wont to be disturbed in the exchange of sweet sayings and to cease to bask in each other's smiles sooner than was particularly desired.

In this habitation there is registered a boy and of such calibre, which affords him a degree of curiosity, and coupled with energy, which, if not to be commended, is at least noticeable for its extensiveness.

While Romeo and Juliet were most graciously presenting their pleasing facial expressions for each others entertainment, the aforesaid boy had quietly slipped into the attic over the kitchen in order to get a good view, through the ventilator in the ceiling, of the happy couple and that his tympanum might be played upon by the divers remarks of an amorous nature. However, the amorousness of the surroundings must have overcome young curiosity to such an extent that he lost his moorings as it were, and before he had time to call a halt on the proceedings, a heterogeneous conglomeration of boy, lath, plaster and excited exclamations, freely interspersed with screams of all sizes filled the atmosphere in the region of the culinary department in a royal manner. It is thought that it will not be essential for the boy to take a course of study under the direction of Prof. Loisette for memory training in order to keep the circumstance fenced within bounds of his recollection.

WILDCATS IN A FIGHT.

A Duel Between Two Toms in the Presence of an Applauding Female.

Levi Smalling, a Spring Brook hunter, recently witnessed a remarkable fight between two male wildcats in the woods of that section. "I was still hunting for squirrels and rabbits," said Mr. Smalling, "when I heard a terrific yowling and snarling down in the ravine from where I was tramping through the woods. I knew at once that the noise was made by wildcats, for I had heard them scream many a time, and my first thought was that a wildcat had been caught in a trap and was yelling from pain. I listened for a minute, and then I heard two distinct voices. I hurried to the brink of a ledge to look down into the ravine, and on my way it seemed as though I could hear three wildcats screaming, and I was not mistaken in this, as I soon found out.

"When I got where I could look down I saw what all the fuss was about. In an open space two he wildcats were making the hair fly from one another's bodies, yelling, scratching, and biting, and every now and then tumbling over each other and tearing up the leaves. On a limb close by to them sat a she wildcat with her back humped up, and she was spitting and sissing and urging the he ones on. I made up my mind right away that the two toms were fighting over her, and I enjoyed the row more than anything I had even seen in the woods. When the toms got tired of clawing one another they crouched on the ground a few feet apart and lashed their tails and howled, while the she one on the limb kept up a continual noise and lashed her tail, too.

"After each resting spell the toms rushed at one another again, and while they were ripping, and tearing, and making the blood fly I climbed down the ledge, stopping every time they stopped for fear they might hear me and either run away or make for me. It seemed to be nip and tuck between them, for they were both big and strong, and each appeared bent on killing the other before he would give up. I wanted to kill them both and get their hides and the bounty money, and so I waited for a good shot at them. I had a charge of buckshot in my right barrel and a bullet in the left, and my intention was to send the buckshot at them when mixed up in the next bout.

"Then they flew at one another again, but before I could reach the spot that I wanted to get to before I blazed away the toms separated once more. By this time they were pretty well fought out, and for a few minutes all they did was to glare at one another, swing their tails back and forth, and howl. The she cat then sprang from her limb to another branch, giving a scream as she leaped, and in less than ten seconds the he ones dashed at each other and fought more furiously than ever, filling the woods with their yowls.

"Then I banged away at the heap with the charge of buckshot. One of the wildcats leaped into the air and fell down dead, and the other went howling into the bushes out of my sight. I saw that there was no use of trying to get another shot at him, and I sent the bullet at the she one and knocked her off the limb. I didn't stir from the spot until I had chucked a charge into each barrel, and then I hurried down to see if I had killed the she one. She was [illegible] and then I [illegible]

A WASHINGTON correspondent of the New York Sun recently, in alluding to a pile of bills on Dan Lamon's table awaiting Presidential signature, told this little story: "The other object of national interest on Col. Lamont's desk was a little old-fashioned Bible in shiny covers of black enamel. On the uppermost cover, in a little space left on purpose, was the name of 'S. G. Cleveland.' Lifting the cover revealed a line or two of writing in a neat, precise, feminine hand declaring that the book was a gift to S. G. Cleveland from his loving mother. Col. Lamont said that he first saw the book on Mr. Cleveland's table in Buffalo before he became Governor. Afterward, in Albany, he saw it again whenever he entered the Governor's private apartments. When the Governor was about to become President Col. Lamont abstracted the book, and giving it to Chief Justice Waite asked him if he would not be so kind as to use that particular Bible in swearing in the Chief Magistrate. That, then, was the little black book that 40,000 or more men and women saw him lift to his lips on the Capitol steps four year ago. On the last flyleaf of that homely little Bible is now the attestation of the Clerk of the Supreme Court of the United States that it was used for this ceremony. The book was given to the President when he was a little boy before he dropped—as he did in boyhood—the first of his names, Stephen.

"Can't eat a thing." Hood's Sarsaparilla is a wonderful medicine for creating an appetite, regulating digestion, and giving strength.

A CAMERA called "detective" was shown at a late meeting of the Photographic Society of Great Britain, which contained some novel features. The instrument consisted of a tin camera at the back of which was a drum, also of tin, in the circumference of which six plates were ranged. By mechanism, an inner drum bearing these plates was made to revolve, presenting them in succession to the action of the lens.

JOHN WILSON, living near Astor, Fla., cut a big cypress tree in the swamp north of town, and found therein a live alligator seven feet long. As the opening in the tree was not half large enough for the 'gator to get through, the presumption is that it crawled in when quite young and lived on other animals and reptiles that sought refuge in the same tree.

Forced to Leave Home.

Over 60 people were forced to leave their homes yesterday to call for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine. If your blood is bad, your liver and kidneys out of order, if you are constipated and have headache and an unsightly complexion, don't fail to call on any druggist to-day for a free sample of this grand remedy. The ladies praise it. Everyone likes it. Large size package 50 cents.

A "CHEEKY" thief has been discovered in Lima, Ohio. He is a boy, too, and after robbing a shoe-store, returned with some of the booty and endeavored to effect an exchange for a pair of shoes that would fit him. It eked out that he had stolen the goods, and the proprietor had him and two youthful pals arrested.

If you ask your druggist for Pond's Extract and he offers an article which he represents "the same as Pond's Extract," do not believe him. It is not true. Nothing else is "as good as Pond's Extract." Pond's Extract is sold only in their own bottles, enclosed in buff wrapper and having landscape trade mark. Old bottles can not be refilled with Pond's Extract.

THERE is a company in Birmingham, England, that makes about ten millions of pins every day, the weight averaging five tons per week. The company are in possession, as proprietors, of the privileges and rights of the original patentee of the solid-headed pin. There are at least two other extensive pin manufacturers in Birmingham, where it is said that half the pins used in the world are made.

What It Means.

To the man or woman who has never been ill, the word "health" is meaningless. But to the one who has suffered and despaired, health appears as a priceless boon. To the thousand of unfortunate women who are suffering from some of the many forms of weaknesses or irregularities peculiar to their sex, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription holds forth the promise of a speedy restoration of this "priceless boon."

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to take. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

I am satisfied that Cancer is hereditary in my family. My father died of it, a sister of my mother died of it, and my own sister died of it. My feelings may be imagined, then, when the horrible disease made its appearance on my side. It was a malignant Cancer, eating inwardly in such a way that it could not be cut out. Numerous remedies were used for it, but the Cancer grew steadily worse, until it seemed that I was doomed to follow the others of the family. I took Swift's Specific, which, from the first day, forced out the poison, and continued its use until I had taken several bottles, when I found myself well. I know that S. S. S. cured me.

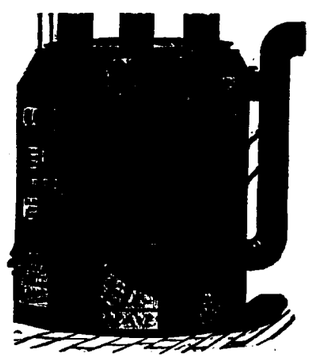
SHE'S A HUMMER!



The above cut represents the HOWARD FURNACE, which obtains by its construction, advantages over all others. It is the most Scientific, Practical and Simple heater yet produced. It has the largest radiating surface, wherein the heat is circulated around and contained in the furnace instead of passing directly into the chimney. This furnace does not burn over one ton of coal a month in the coldest weather and in some instances less. This furnace will also heat by means of hot water, thereby reaching distant rooms where hot air cannot. It is low down and can be set in the lowest cellar and still allow hot air pipes to be taken from the top instead of the side of the casting as in all other furnaces. JOHN PRESSLER.

"Only a Wanderer!"

I am only a wanderer. I have travelled over hill, mountain, valley, dale; have witnessed the beauties of the Orient and have crossed the wilderness of the west. It has been my delight to quaff from the overflowing cup of joy, until my very soul vibrated with harmony of supreme satisfaction. Again it has been my lot to fall victim to insufferable hardships. Indeed I am a traveller, a wanderer, but not an outcast. You may wonder who I am. When I get to Oklahoma and boom as a boommer's boom can only boom I will write you more—Aye.

I am a wanderer, but in all my wanderings, I never yet was treated better, nor had more satisfaction for the money than when I purchased that last pair of shoes at the Hoosier shoe store. I would advise my friends to see the great bargains offered there, and they will, I am sure, never regret it.

IN A BED OF FLAMES.

Martin Ocker is Almost Roasted to Death While Asleep Last Night.

Martin Ocker, a fireman on the Nickel Plate road, lodges at the residence of James M. Gouty, 179 West Superior street.

Early yesterday he placed in the pocket of a woolen shirt he wore, a handful of matches. He was wont to carry them there and thought nothing of the matter.

Last night he repaired to his apartments, located in the introductory paragraph, and after some time retired, wearing the flannel shirt before described.

Some time during the night the friction of tossing about on the bed or possibly from some other cause, the matches in the shirt pocket blazed out and set fire to the bed clothing. Ocker did not wake up until the shirt was partially burned from his body. Then it was to find himself in a sea of flames.

He leaped out onto the floor and from his person snatched the blazing shirt shreds, while his cries for help aroused the household.

If it were not for assistance the man would have been roasted alive, for his arms were scorched to a crisp and the flesh of his shoulders and back was black and blistered by the fire.

He was a frightful picture and his agony was melting, until medical relief came, in the person of Dr. C. B. Stemen.

"It is my belief that Ocker will live," said the doctor to THE SENTINEL reporter, "but it was a mighty close call. The man is very severely burned."

No Name.

My little boy, five years old, was attacked with a disease for which the doctors had no name. The nails came off to the middle joint. For three years under various kinds of treatment from many physicians, he suffered terribly and got no better. I began the use of Swift's Specific a short time ago, and he is getting well. PARTING WORDS.

The Close of the Great Mission Meeting—A Few Missing Links Supplied.

The eighteenth annual meeting of the Woman's Presbyterian Board of Missions, which came to a close yesterday afternoon, as we were going to press, finished its labors shortly before 5 o'clock, and the delegates have gone to their homes with many pleasant recollections of the profitable session and the hospitable manner in which they were entertained by our citizens.

The closing exercises, which were briefly alluded to in THE SENTINEL last evening, were full of interest and to our account already given we can only add the remarks of Mrs. S. J. Rhea on the topic "A Group of Missionaries," and the closing remarks of the president. Mrs. Rhea's speech was full of interest and was listened to attentively by the vast audience. She spoke as follows:

"I wish I could speak of the costly gems placed in the Redeemer's crown. In the principles of this meeting, in the work of our board, in our president's labors, in the work of our executive committee, in the precious work of our auxiliary societies, in the systematic and careful, loving work that is done all over the world—and there are such grand, rich jewels in the crown. And they are so dear, so precious, these loving sons and daughters, these precious children of the hearts; these who offer their young, ardent minds to carry the gospel to the heathen.

"Yes, they are ours to love and to help, their faults, their weaknesses, their failures and their trials we are responsible for, for we have sent them out. That is what our board exists for, to send them; they are our missionaries.

"We feel as if we were almost in the presence of the heathen, these faces have looked into their eyes, these hands have touched theirs, these ears that are so glad to hear our voices and hear the gospel have also heard the heathen speak in their strange tongues of the wonderful work of God.

"These ears, oh, blessed ears, that have heard the joyful sound, have heard the heathen woman asking, 'What can I do to be saved?'

"They have heard them ask for Christ, they have heard them praise his name, they have witnessed that wonderful transformation of heathen women being converted to Christ.

"These missionaries have looked into the eyes of the heathen women and from their eyes down into their souls, for women see into women's souls.

"These eyes have shed tears for heathen women; that is one of the things that missionaries have eyes for, that they may shed tears.

"I would that every heart here may be prepared like a camera and take a photograph to carry home this picture that is before us to-day."

The speaker then introduced the following missionaries: Miss Smith, who goes to Tuheran, Persia; Miss Pendleton, whose mission is at India; Miss McIntosh, who goes to South America; Misses Davis and Gibbons to India; Miss Holliday, whom the speaker said went to Persia from Indianapolis; Miss Ward, "who has the word China written on her heart; Mrs. Johnson, who also goes to China.

"We have had," Mrs. Rhea continued, "the blessing which we asked, we have had the best meeting that we have ever enjoyed, and we can go to carry out the plans revealed to us.

"I am sure that we can all go home, and when we report to our societies there about this meeting I hope the first words that will come to our lips will be, 'We had a good time, the Lord was there, I never loved him so much.' I was never more resolved to put forth every effort I have for the Lord."

RESOLUTIONS.

Resolved, That we hereby express our thanks to Christian friends in Fort Wayne for their gracious hospitality; to the First church, its pastor and choir, for a delightful place of meeting and an inspiring service of song; to the kind friend who set beauty and fragrance as a continual refreshment before us; to the young friends who have so untiringly and acceptably served the bountiful lunch; to the local committee of arrangements, and every one of their faithful helpers, for such perfection of detail in both plan and execution, as it proves that love has ministered unto us for Christ's sake.

Resolved, That we recognize with reverent gratitude the good hand of our God upon us, in the personal privilege of attending this meeting, in the unbroken official membership of our board and in the seal of divine approval upon our work shown by the report of our secretaries, and by touching incidents and loving messages given by workers from various fields.

Resolved, That we acknowledge more profoundly than ever before the individual responsibilities of American Christian womanhood in behalf of the heathen millions, and our personal obligation to carry to the societies we represent the inspiration and power of this meeting, and that we therefore, with renewed consecration to our Master, our board, pledge more sacrifice, more prayer, more service for Christ for the [illegible]

before the closing hymn, made the following farewell remarks:

"As our treasurer spoke of our wonderful land I was greatly impressed with her words. A land broad and fair, prepared for just such a people as this, and a people that would give up home and friends and country for the freedom to worship God.

"Our forefathers found good pasturage and the land was wide, quiet and comfortable. They developed its resources and rapidly increased in wealth.

"In this country, according to the statistics of Gladstone, the wealth seems fabulous, it was not given us that we should appropriate it to ourselves, but we should scatter broadcast these blessings that are given us.

"I believe that with this great American church, God, in His Providence, has given this great work for you, American women, to do.

"Here, met as a representative body of Christian women of the northwest, with God's Providence, we may togethmove the world.

"Woman in this country can be an educator. She can teach the young to love God. She goes to the heathen in his own land. I do not want to exalt woman. I do not want to set her up on a pedestal for mere admiration, but I would like to stimulate her to carry on this good work until the kingdoms of the earth have become the kingdoms of our Lord who is Christ, and He shall reign forever and forever. God be with us until we meet again."

FARTING WORDS.

Thus has closed one of the most distinguished gatherings of Christian ladies that has ever assembled in Fort Wayne. They came from their homes in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Dakota, Minnesota and several of the other states and territories of the great northwest, and it would be hard to find a superior body of representative American women, for they were splendid types of intellectual womanhood, and earnestly devoted to the cause in whose behalf they had assembled. Their work has been a grand one. It will be of incalculable benefit to the cause of missions abroad, and will tell through the centuries to come, and in closing this imperfect record of the proceedings of this great body, we can not more appropriately and briefly do so than to say: "God speed you Christian women in your noble work of sending the gospel to the benighted portions of the earth."

SICK OF THEIR BARGAINS.

The Comical Side of the Oklahoma Boom Will Now Be Succeeded By the Tragic.

OKLAHOMA CITY, I. T., April 26.—Sixty men employed as section hands on the Santa Fe deserted their posts Monday and took up claims just outside Guthrie. They made no provisions for the future and are now sick of their bargain. These men will either desert their holdings or sell out for a song within a week. The condition of many who settled outside of the town shows plainly that the comical side of the movement is about to be succeeded by the tragic.

PURCELL, I. T., April 26.—Thousands of disappointed home seekers, returning from Oklahoma, are obtaining land from the Indians in the Chickasaw, Choctaw and Creek nations. Many of the Indians welcome the white settlers and some are said to favor an allotment in severalty of their entire reservation.

Vice-President Morton in a Railroad Collision.

BALTIMORE, April 26.—A collision occurred this morning, between passenger trains on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, caused the injury of four men and endangered the life of Levi P. Morton, vice-president of the United States, and a large number of passengers.

Among other prominent men aboard were General Schofield and staff and Governor Foraker, of Ohio, and staff. All were going to New York.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 26.—The state department has been informed by cable that Minister Pendleton, at Berlin, has presented his letters of recall and that the affairs of the legation have been temporarily turned over to the charge D'Affaires.

Secretary Blaine is much better to-day.

Insulted His Wife.

LEBANON, Ind., April 26.—Dr. White was horse-whipped by John Conrad, a section boss on the Big Four railway, last evening at Zionsville. Conrad claimed that White insulted his wife.

In noting the candidacy of Mr. Herman Michael for councilman from the Second ward, THE SENTINEL reporter yesterday said he would stand as a republican. This is a mistake and entirely unintentional with us. Mr. Michael came over to the democracy under the reign of Mr. Cleveland, and did yeoman service for the party. He will be a democratic candidate for councilman.

Dr. B. S. Woodworth, according to the Washington telegrams, was yesterday reappointed a member of the board of pension examiners, of this city. He served as president of the board for twenty-one years and President Cleveland reappointed him, but later his removal was affected because of a severe criticism of Vice President Hendricks from his pen in the Gazette. Papers are not at hand and it is not known whom of the three, Drs. Symrington, Dinnen or Dills, Dr. Woodworth displaces. The salary here is $1,000 a year.

Several other buildings in the vicinity were also badly damaged by the flames.

THE LUTHERAN SYNOD.

The Semi-Centennial of Concordia College to be Celebrated in June.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 26.—The Rev. J. H. Niemann, of Cleveland, Ohio, president of the middle district of the Lutheran synod, now in session at this city, in his opening remarks yesterday, took occasion to refer to the approaching celebration of the Washington centennial and to the religious liberty that is to-day enjoyed in this country as one of the results of national freedom. Not only is the effect of this liberty, he said, felt in political and state circles, but also in the sphere of the church, and as such it is largely accountable for the rapid and promising growth of the German Evangelical Lutheran church.

In June a semi-centennial celebration will be held in Fort Wayne to commemorate the organization of Concordia college. Its growth has been remarkable in the last fifty years. It was first instituted in a log cabin, in Perry county, Missouri.

The annual report of the district president was then presented, showing that during the past three-quarters of a year three ministers have been ordained and five installed. One parochial school teacher has been installed, three members removed from the district, and three ministers and one teacher received. Following this report was that of the board of relief, organized for the benefit of the widows and orphans of the teachers and ministers. D. W. Roscher, of Fort Wayne, treasurer, made a very favorable report upon the year, showing total receipts aggregating something over $15,000. A vote of thanks was extended to the Fort Wayne National bank, which has kindly furnished the checks to the treasurer free of charge.

THE HENDRICKS CLUB.

It Comes to the Surface With Its Old Time Vigor and Will Celebrate Washington's Centennial.

The Hendricks club held a splendid meeting last night and its old time enthusiasm was manifested. Hon. J. M. Barrett was present and in a neat address expressed his appreciation of the club and its aims and purposes. He was willing to labor with the club for the cause of democracy as a member, and preferred that to the presidency. The club refused to entertain his wishes and by a unanimous vote of its members ratified the action of the directors in electing him to the presidency. Mr. Barrett promised his best efforts and appreciation for the honor.

A committee was appointed to revise and report a plan of organization to embody the advanced reviews of the club and they will report Monday evening.

It was voted to observe the centennial anniversary of General Washington's inauguration, April 30, by a general parade of the club in the afternoon or evening. The City band will be engaged, and civic and military societies will be invited to join the procession, which is to conclude with a patriotic program.

A committee was appointed to make all arrangements and report Monday evening.

The club has now a membership of 100, and pleasant quarters.

He Wasn't a "Chump."

Scene—Court house square. A stranger passes along scrutinizing the stores and sign boards. In his eagerness he stumbles over a glass show case standing on the sidewalk. Regaining his feet the unfortunate stranger backs into a baby carriage, upsetting the vehicle and shocking the mother. A policeman appears on the scene, while a hard-hearted pedestrian says, vehemently: "Well, you're a chump." With great composure the stranger adjusts his eye glasses and says coolly: "I beg your pardon, lady," and, as he lifts the child into the carriage, he drops a shining trinket in its hands. Turning to the man who ventured an unkind remark, he said: "I do not beg your pardon, sir; I am not a chump. I was looking for the store of the 'Original Pete,' hence all this catastrophe. A friend of mine has a suit of clothes from this house and I would go through fire, smoke and water to get one like it. I will make good all this loss, but pray guide me to this famous clothing and gents' furnishing emporium." He was guided.

E. A. E. HACKETT, Editor and Proprietor.

FRIDAY, APRIL 26, 1889.

THE republicans of Bluffton nominated L. C. Davenport for mayor, but he declines to be a candidate.

THE ancient City of Mexico is ordering electric light wires and their unsightly poles from the streets. There is some hope that Fort Wayne will get there in a century or two.

SIR JULIAN PAUNCEFOTE, the new British minister, refuses to talk to reporters and never writes a letter when he can walk. He interviewed Lord Sackville before coming over.

WM. S. KISER, of Noble county, who held a chief clerkship at Washington, sent in his resignation the other day to make room for a republican. Mr. Kiser is prominent in Twelfth district politics.

THE officers of the judicial circuit composed of DeKalb and Steuben counties have announced that they will leave no stone unturned to suppress gambling in that circuit, and that in case of conviction, the highest fine, $500, will be assessed.

THE recent decision of the supreme court annulling the election of the commissioners, has led Judge Niblack, according to the Vincennes Sun, to a determination to remove to Indianapolis, where he will resume the practice of law.

CAPTAIN J. E. BRADEN, of Ligonier, a hero of two wars, declined to be a candidate for postmaster at a primary election to select a candidate up there the other day. He recognized that a soldier, and a good one at that, stood no show in a race with the greedy republican office hunters.

THE Democratic Union Soldiers' and Sailors' Veteran association will meet in Indianapolis at the Hendricks club rooms, Tuesday, May 7. The object of the meeting is for the election of officers for the ensuing year, for an interchange of ideas concerning future plans and purposes of this organization, and to promote a general feeling of fraternal interest between the democratic union soldiers and sailors in all parts of the United States.

THE republicans of Lafayette have nominated for mayor, William S. Haggard, for clerk, David H. Flynn, for treasurer, Nicholas Gribling, for marshal, Edward Cunningham, for water works trustee, George S. Brown. The councilman are John H. McGrath, Patrick Feeley, Leo Pottlitzer, Dwight B. Woodcock, John Kimmel, Charles A. Davis, and Warren W. Lane. Mr. Brown, is the father of Mrs. W. P. Cooper, of this city, while Mr. Pottlitzer is a brother of Mr. Julius Pottlitzer, the commission merchant.

SUPERINTENDENT T. J. CHARLTON, of the reform school for boys, has made a semi-annual statement to the treasurer of the state of the number of boys in the school from the various counties of the state during the past six months. The report shows that 583 boys were under the care of the school, coming from eighty-two counties. The largest delegation came from Marion county, with 110 boys. Vigo came second with forty-four and Allen third with twenty-six. One-half of the expenses of the reform school is borne by the counties sending boys there.

IT is charged by the correspondent of the Indianapolis Journal, who is on the spot, that Mr. John I. Dille, of Huntington, and other Oklahoma officers, employing the advantages acquired on account of their official positions, have gobbled up the best portion of Guthrie by an unauthorized and unwarranted settlement—the lots having been staked off on Sunday night and taken possession of before 10 o'clock Monday morning, before the opening of the territory. The Muncie Times, another republican newspaper, insists that if the facts are as detailed by the correspondent the officials should not only be ousted from possession of the land, but from their official relations to the government. Such a scandal deserves a prompt rebuke from the administration and it will doubtless be forthcoming. Democratic comment is unnecessary.

THE COMMON COUNCIL.

Whereas, The committee on streets and city attorney reported at the last regular meeting in favor of vacating the alley in Schmitz's sub-division of lots No. 454, 455 and 456, in Hanna's addition; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the city clerk be and he is hereby instructed to call out the city commissioners to meet on the 11th day of May, 1889, at the city hall, and then hence proceed and view the property sought to be vacated and report according to law.

That Tired Feeling.

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

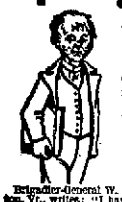
Spring Disorders



Shattered nerves, tired brain. Impure blood, debilitated system, all are the natural outcome in the spring. A medicine must be used, and nothing equals Paine's Celery Compound. We let others praise us—you cannot help believing a disinterested party.

Brigadier-General W. L. Greenleaf, Burlington, Vt., writes: "I have used Paine's Celery Compound on several occasions and always with benefit. Last spring, being very much run down and debilitated, I commenced taking it. Two bottles made me feel like a new man. As a general tonic and spring medicine I do not know of its equal."

Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nursing Mothers, the Weak and Debilitated.

Put up in this style. I have used Johann Hoff's Malt Extract for the past two years in my private practice and have found it to be the best health restoring beverage and tonic nutritive known. I have found it especially good for persons convalescing from fevers, in cases of dyspepsia, for mothers nursing, and in cases of weakly children, and also in lung troubles. My attention was drawn by the immense importation semi-annually, and about a million of bottles imported by you have passed my inspection in the Custom House satisfactorily for the past five years.

LONG LIFE.

There is nothing in the world more generally desired than long life, yet the majority of people put off caring for their health—not because they are really careless, but because we live our lives at such a pace we have not time to give the subject sufficient thought until we receive a reminder in the shape of a severe illness.

Then, too, we are constantly bewildered by the various schools of medicine, and the physicians who represent them, and often blunder in our choice of a doctor.

If people only knew that the very best health-keeper, life-preserver and disease preventer that has yet been discovered, is simmered down into a concentrated and very palatable form in the shape of New Style Pleasant Taste Vinegar Bitters, they would not hesitate a moment to try it.

But they do not know. How can they know, when so many not only worthless, but positively injurious drugs are constantly flooding the market under various names and guises, that the New Style Vinegar Bitters is as bad as any of them?

They do not know, of course, unless they have the courage to try the New Style. It straightens out a tangled-up system in a very short while, and those who buy it once buy it always.

Why don't you try it, reader? It is sent out by a responsible house, and is exactly as represented. It costs but a dollar for a very large bottle. Try it once and you will never be so glad of anything in your life. Your druggist may not have it, but he will order it for you. Be sure it says New Style Pleasant Taste on carton and bottle before you take it. Try it, and you will feel happier than if you had found a gold mine, for it really is a mine—of health.

Free from alcohol and opium; composed of expensive herbs and roots, with fine, delicate flavoring.

BE TUMBLED.

How a Sixth Ward Lad Sought to Emulate Love Tales.

By the East Yard Correspondent.

It was on a calm and tranquil Sunday night and everything on B——— street, in the Sixth ward, was as quiet as the grave, when the domestic of one of the habitations was being courted by a gallant swain.

But it seemed that this happy pair was wont to be disturbed in the exchange of sweet sayings and to cease to bask in each other's smiles sooner than was particularly desired.

In this habitation there is registered a boy and of such calibre, which affords him a degree of curiosity, and coupled with energy, which, if not to be commended, is at least noticeable for its extensiveness.

While Romeo and Juliet were most graciously presenting their pleasing facial expressions for each others entertainment, the aforesaid boy had quietly slipped into the attic over the kitchen in order to get a good view, through the ventilator in the ceiling, of the happy couple and that his tympanum might be played upon by the divers remarks of an amorous nature. However, the amorousness of the surroundings must have overcome young curiosity to such an extent that he lost his moorings as it were, and before he had time to call a halt on the proceedings, a heterogeneous conglomeration of boy, lath, plaster and excited exclamations, freely interspersed with screams of all sizes filled the atmosphere in the region of the culinary department in a royal manner. It is thought that it will not be essential for the boy to take a course of study under the direction of Prof. Loisette for memory training in order to keep the circumstance fenced within bounds of his recollection.

WILDCATS IN A FIGHT.

A Duel Between Two Toms in the Presence of an Applauding Female.

Levi Smalling, a Spring Brook hunter, recently witnessed a remarkable fight between two male wildcats in the woods of that section. "I was still hunting for squirrels and rabbits," said Mr. Smalling, "when I heard a terrific yowling and snarling down in the ravine from where I was tramping through the woods. I knew at once that the noise was made by wildcats, for I had heard them scream many a time, and my first thought was that a wildcat had been caught in a trap and was yelling from pain. I listened for a minute, and then I heard two distinct voices. I hurried to the brink of a ledge to look down into the ravine, and on my way it seemed as though I could hear three wildcats screaming, and I was not mistaken in this, as I soon found out.

"When I got where I could look down I saw what all the fuss was about. In an open space two he wildcats were making the hair fly from one another's bodies, yelling, scratching, and biting, and every now and then tumbling over each other and tearing up the leaves. On a limb close by to them sat a she wildcat with her back humped up, and she was spitting and hissing and urging the he ones on. I made up my mind right away that the two toms were fighting over her, and I enjoyed the row more than anything I had ever seen in the woods. When the toms got tired of clawing one another they crouched on the ground a few feet apart and lashed their tails and howled, while the she one, on the limb kept up a continual noise and lashed her tail, too.

"After each resting spell the toms rushed at one another again, and while they were ripping and tearing, and making the blood fly I climbed down the ledge, stopping every time they stopped for fear they might hear me and either run away or make for me. It seemed to be nip and tuck between them, for they were both big and strong, and each appeared bent on killing the other before he would give up. I wanted to kill them both and get their hides and the bounty money, and so I waited for a good shot at them. I had a charge of buckshot in my right barrel and a bullet in the left, and my intention was to send the buckshot at them when mixed up in the next bout.

"Then they flew at one another again, but before I could reach the spot that I wanted to get to before I blazed away the toms separated once more. By this time they were pretty well fought out, and for a few minutes all they did was to glare at one another, swing their tails back and forth, and howl. The she cat then sprang from her limb to another branch, giving a scream as she leaped, and in less than ten seconds the he ones dashed at each other and fought more furiously than ever, filling the woods with their yowls.

"Then I banged away at the heap with the charge of buckshot. One of the wildcats leaped into the air and fell down dead, and the other went howling into the bushes out of my sight. I saw that there was no use of trying to get another shot at him, and I sent the bullet at the she one and knocked her of the limb. I didn't stir from the spot until I had chucked a charge into each barrel, and then I hurried down to see if I had killed the she one. She was dead enough, I was glad to find out, and then I thought I would search for the live tom, thinking that he might have been wounded by one of the buckshot. I found him after a little, and I guess he would have given me a pretty lively time of it if two of his legs hadn't been broken. As it was he showed fight and tried to tear my bootleg off, but I had the advantage of him and shot him through the head."

A WASHINGTON correspondent of the New York Sun recently, in alluding to a pile of bills on Dan Lamont's table awaiting Presidential signature, told this little story: "The other object of national interest on Col. Lamont's desk was a little old-fashioned Bible in shiny covers of black enamel. On the uppermost cover, in a little space left on purpose, was the name of 'S. G. Cleveland.' Lifting the cover revealed a line or two of writing in a neat, precise, feminine hand declaring that the book was a gift to S. G. Cleveland from his loving mother. Col. Lamont said that he first saw the book on Mr. Cleveland's table in Buffalo before he became Governor. Afterward, in Albany, he saw it again whenever he entered the Governor's private apartments. When the Governor was about to become President Col. Lamont abstracted the book, and giving it to Chief Justice Waite asked him if he would not be so kind as to use that particular Bible in sweating in the Chief Magistrate. That, then, was the little black book that 40,000 or more men and women saw him lift to his lips on the Capitol steps four year ago. On the last flyleaf of that homely little Bible is now the attestation of the Clerk of the Supreme Court of the United States that it was used for this ceremony. The book was given to the President when he was a little boy before he dropped—as he did in boyhood—the first of his names, Stephen.

"Can't eat a thing." Hood's Sarsaparilla is a wonderful medicine for creating an appetite, regulating digestion, and giving strength.

A CAMERA called "detective" was shown at a late meeting of the Photographic Society of Great Britain, which contained some novel features. The instrument consisted of a tin camera at the back of which was a drum, also of tin, in the circumference of which six plates were ranged. By mechanism, an inner drum bearing these plates was made to revolve, presenting them in succession to the action of the lens.

JOHN WILSON, living near Astor, Fla., cut a big cypress tree in the swamp north of town, and found therein a live alligator seven feet long. As the opening in the tree was not half large enough for the 'gator to get through, the presumption is that it crawled in when quite young and lived on other animals and reptiles that sought refuge in the same tree.

Forced to Leave Home.

Over 60 people were forced to leave their homes yesterday to call for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine. If your blood is bad, your liver and kidneys out of order, if you are constipated and have headache and an unsightly complexion, don't fail to call on any druggist to-day for a free sample of this grand remedy. The ladies praise it. Everyone likes it. Largesize package 50 cents.

A "CHEEKY" thief has been discovered in Lima, Ohio. He is a boy, too, and after robbing a shoe store, returned with some of the booty and endeavored to effect an exchange for a pair of shoes that would fit him. It eked out that he had stolen the goods, and the proprietor had him and two youthful pals arrested.

If you ask your druggist for Pond's Extract and he offers an article which he represents "the same as Pond's Extract," do not believe him. It is not true. Nothing else is "as good as Pond's Extract." Pond's Extract is sold only in their own bottles, enclosed in buff wrapper and having landscape trade mark. Old bottles can not be refilled with Pond's Extract.

THERE is a company in Birmingham, England, that makes about ten millions of pins every day, the weight averaging five tons per week. The company are in possession, as proprietors, of the privileges and rights of the original patentee of the solid-headed pin. There are at least two other extensive pin manufacturers in Birmingham, where it is said that half the pins used in the world are made.

What it Means.

To the man or woman who has never been ill, the word "health" is meaningless. But to the one who has suffered and despaired, health appears as a priceless boon. To the thousand of unfortunate women who are suffering from some of the many forms of weaknesses or irregularities peculiar to their sex, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription holds the promise of a speedy restoration of this "priceless boon."

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to take. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

I was satisfied that Cancer is hereditary in my family. My father died of it, a sister of my mother died of it, and my own sister died of it. My feelings may be imagined, then, when the horrible disease made its appearance on my side. It was a malignant Cancer, eating inwardly in such a way that it could not be cut out. Numerous remedies were used for it, but the Cancer grew steadily worse, until it seemed that I was doomed to follow the others of the family. I took Swift's Specific, which, from the first day, forced out the poison, and continued its use until I had taken several bottles, when I found myself well. I know that S. S. S. cured me.

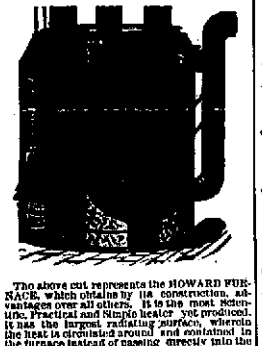
SHE'S A HUMMER!



The above cut represents the HOWARD FURNACE, which obtains by its construction, advantages over all others. It is the most return-tubular, Practical and Simple heater yet produced. It has the largest radiating surface, wherein the heat is circulated around and contained in the furnace instead of passing directly into the chimney. This furnace does not burn over one ton of coal a month in the coldest weather and in some instances less. This furnace will also heat by means of hot water, thereby reaching distant rooms where hot air cannot. It is low down and can be set in the lowest cellar and still allow hot air pipes to be taken from the top instead of the side of the casting as in all other furnaces.

"Only a Wanderer!"

I am only a wanderer. I have travelled over hill, mountain, valley, dale; have witnessed the beauties of the Orient and have crossed the wilderness of the west. It has been my delight to quaff from the overflowing cup of joy, until my very soul vibrated with harmony of supreme satisfaction. Again it has been my lot to fall victim to insufferable hardships. Indeed I am a traveller, a wanderer, but not an outcast. You may wonder who I am. When I get to Oklahoma and boom as a boomer's boom can only boom I will write you more—Aye.

I am a wanderer, but in all my wanderings, I never yet was treated better, nor had more satisfaction for the money than when I purchased that last pair of shoes at the Hoosier shoe store. I would advise my friends to see the great bargains offered there, and they will, I am sure, never regret it.

IN A BED OF FLAMES.

Martin Ocker is Almost Roasted to Death While Asleep Last Night.

Martin Ocker, a fireman on the Nickel Plate road, lodges at the residence of James M. Gouty, 179 West Superior street.

Early yesterday he placed in the pocket of a woolen shirt he wore, a handful of matches. He was wont to carry them there and thought nothing of the matter.

Last night he repaired to his apartments, located in the introductory paragraph, and after some time retired, wearing the flannel shirt before described.

Some time during the night the friction of tossing about on the bed or possibly from some other cause, the matches in the shirt pocket blazed out and set fire to the bed clothing. Ocker did not wake up until the shirt was partially burned from his body. Then it was to find himself in a sea of flames.

He leaped out onto the floor and from his person snatched the blazing shirt shreds, while his cries for help aroused the household.

If it were not for assistance the man would have been roasted alive, for his arms were scorched to a crisp and the flesh of his shoulders and back was black and blistered by the fire.

He was a frightful picture and his agony was melting, until medical relief came, in the person of Dr. C. B. Stemen.

"It is my belief that Ocker will live," said the doctor to THE SENTINEL reporter, "but it was a mighty close call. The man is very severely burned."

No Name.

All the old buildings have been painted, and with two dozen hulls, enlarged restaurant, with twenty-five new clinker boats added to the already large fleet there, makes Rome City the most attractive, cleanest and best resort for pienics or excursion parties in Indiana.

The lake is large; nicely wooded banks surround it, clean gravel or sand shores; no black muck or wild grass to prevent the landing of row boats at almost any point desired; while those desiring to view the beautiful waters, without partaking of the pleasure of boat-riding, can do so seated upon the lake's beautiful banks, nicely shaded, thus avoiding the hot rays of the burning sun.
